

DC DMV REAL ID CREDENTIAL NOTICE

The DC DMV issues a federally compliant driver license and identification card which is called "REAL ID". Therefore, you need to find out what documents to COLLECT and BRING with you, so you can SECURE your new REAL ID driver license or REAL ID identification card. The REAL ID driver license and REAL ID identification card are our current driver license and identification card, and they require a one-time re-validation of source documents when you obtain a first-time DC credential, renew your DC credential, or obtain a duplicate credential (for lost, stolen, correction or address changes). The REAL ID credential has a black star in the upper right-hand corner.

Note: You cannot use the same document to verify your proof of identity, proof of ability to drive, proof of social security number or proof of residence. You must have a separate document for each category. DC DMV will NOT accept documents that are not listed to satisfy a category.

REAL ID Proof of Identity – Full Legal Name and Date of Birth and Lawful Presence: You must provide ONE (1) original source document from the list below: The documents must list your full legal name and date of birth.

*Note: Document source may not be used as Proof of Lawful Presence.

This is known as a CSOSA and DC DOC sole source document. This is an exception process that may only be used to receive a 6-month identification card if none of the other acceptable documents is available. After the initial 6 months, CSOSA and DC DOC applicants will be required to undergo a re-validation process and provide acceptable source documents, excluding the original CSOSA or DC DOC sole source document (i.e., CSOSA and DC DOC sole source document will not be an acceptable document to use for re-validation after the 6-months ID card has expired).
